Product Labeling

Do all hearing aid-compatible handsets include labeling? Yes

Explain:

Do all hearing aid-compatible handsets with the Wi-Fi air interface have clear and effective disclosure that the handset has not been tested for hearing aid compatibility with respect to its Wi-Fi voice operation? Yes

Explain:

Public Website

Does your company maintain a public website describing all hearing aid-compatible models, the ratings of those models, and an explanation of the rating system? Yes

Website address: www.cellularone-slo.com

Explain:

Consumer Outreach

Describe consumer outreach efforts in the past 12 months: In addition to the handset labeling (which is either manufacturer-supplied or Filer-supplied), the Filer has hearing aid information and ANSI ratings posted on its website. In addition, ANSI ratings for HAC phones are listed on feature cards for the handsets on display in the Filer's retail stores. The Filer also has wireless industry pamphlets available that customers can take home with information about the Commission's HAC requirements and HAC rating system, information which is also available on the Filer's website. Furthermore, the Filer's store representatives are trained on hearing aid compatibility with respect to wireless phones to better serve customers. In addition, both hearing-impaired and non-hearing-impaired customers are permitted to test the phones in the retail stores.

Methodology for Functionality Levels

1) Basic Phones: entry-level devices that are offered at low cost or for free. 2) Feature Phones: devices with more advanced capabilities. 3) Smart Phones: devices that run complete operating system software as a platform for application developers; e.g., PDAs.

Report Remarks

For some unexplained reason, the Commission's software will not allow the report to be submitted listing the LG Model KP500 or the Samsung Model B3310. For each handset, the following computer-generated message appears: "The entered Handset Model name already exists for the specified handset maker." In view of this, the following information is offered:

The LG KP500, FCC ID (unknown) operates on the 850 MHz Band GSM air interface, and was offered from August 2009 to date. It is not capable of WiFi voice operations. It is a Smart Phone. It has no M or T rating. It is not HAC rated.

The Samsung B3310, FCC ID A3LSGHA226, operates on the 850 MHz Band GSM air interface, and was offered from November 2009 to date. It is not capable of WiFi voice operations. It is a Feature Phone. It has no M or T rating. It is not HAC rated.

Remarks

The Filer also marketed a Motorola Model V3 with a different FCC ID Number (1HDT56HJ1), a basic phone with an M3/T3 HAC rating, from 09/2008 to 04/2009. The Commission's electronic reporting form will not accept this particular phone, apparently because the same model cannot be listed twice even if the FCC ID Numbers differ.
